3 KILLED, 15 HURT IN STRIKE RIOT

EVIDENCE TO BE TAKEN TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—UP—A jury evenly divided with six men and six women members, was selected today to hear the trial of Alexander Pantages, the multimillionaire showman accused of attacking 17 year old Eunice Pringle when she applied to him for booking.

The state will open its presentation of evidence Thursday morning, probably by calling Mrs. Lou Pringle, mother of the young dancer.

She will establish her daughter's age as 17 as a basis for the charge against Pantages—a statutory offense against a girl under 18 years of age.

Girl on Stand

Then Eunice Pringle will take the stand to tell again her story of the asserted attack in the life consultation room to which she said she was lured by the wealthy showman.

The jury which will hear her story and the trial consists of Mrs. Christina Ulrich, housewife; William F. Bellage, retired railroad man; Mrs. Grace J. Larran; George H. Haven, storekeeper; Mrs. Meade Clapp, housewife; Harvey N. Connell, rancher; Frank F. Frantz, retired bus-

LOCAL DOCTOR SERIOUSLY ILL IN ATTEMPT TO AID SCIENCE

Great hopes were held late yesterday afternoon for the recovery of Harold D. Chope, of the Stanford Medical school, who was reported suffering from the inhalation of a deadly parasite which he had been studying.

Dr. E. C. Dickson, in whose laboratory Chope has been working, stated that the inhalation of the germs was not an unusual occurrence and that there is every possibility that Chope will recover entirely.

Three months ago with true scientific courage, Harold D. Chope, 26, assistant in the department of public health and preventive medicine of Stanford Medical school, started experimenting with a deadly vegetable parasite about which little is known. Today, Chope is fighting for his life in Lane hospital in San Francisco, a victim of the deadly germ he has been studying, while his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Chope, a bride of two months, is "carrying on" as a teacher in the Roosevelt Junior high school in Richmond.

According to the hospital physicians, the microbes are spreading a thickening mold within his lungs and though they hope to save him, they are almost powerless against the ravages of a disease about which practically nothing is now known.

Ability Laundered

Chope was assigned to the task because of his remarkable ability in research, by Dr. William Ophuls, dean of the Stanford medical schools, and Dr. Ernest C. Dickson, also of Stanford and an expert on food poisoning and the growth of molds.

He was told when he began his study, that to inhale the mysterious microbes, known as coccidies granulosi, would probably mean death within a year, acting upon the lungs somewhat like tuberculosis.

Inhaled Parasite

Despite wearing a mask, it is believed that somewhere in his investigations he inhaled some of the parasites. A short time ago Chope noticed that his health was failing and with calm deliberation set about to learn what was ailing him. Diagonals and X-rays confirmed his worst fears—he was a victim of the deadly germ, and Chope entered the hospital in what may be a vain battle for recovery.

Although little research has been done on the parasite, it was discovered and isolated by Dr. Ophuls in 1901. It is found in but one locality in California, the San Joaquin valley, although it occurs all over the world.

Graduating two years ago from Stanford university, a member of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity, Chope was married last August to Miss Marjorie Campbell, a Richmond school teacher. Since their marriage the couple have been residing in an apartment house on Thirteenth street.

C. C. ARRANGES PROGRAM FOR HARBOR FETE

Details of the program for Richmond's celebration of the inner harbor Oct. 12 were decided upon yesterday at a meeting of the general committee headed by J. P. Strom.

Impetus to the celebration throughout the county may be given through a special booster's parade to be held on Oct. 9, M. E. Hazleton of the Merchants' association was named chairman of a special committee to outline plans for this caravan of decorated automobiles, to be dispatched through Contra Costa county on the Wednesday before the local celebration. Strom declared this would not only give general publicity to Richmond, but would bring many hundreds of visitors from the other towns and cities of the county.

The Oct. 12 celebration will include a parade, fireworks, speaking at the terminal, dancing, motor boat races and yacht parade, inspection of the terminal, automobile show and other features, according to the plans outlined yesterday.

City Attorney Thomas M. Carlson is to be master of ceremonies at the speaking program. The speaker of the day will be Joseph E. Caine, chairman of the harbor (Continued on Page 8)

Ma Kennedy Love Quarrel Told In Court

RADIO MAN LAUDED AS 'MODEL'

SEATTLE Wash., Oct. 2.—UP—The ill fated affair, whether love or not of Mrs. Minnie Ma Kennedy and the Rev. H. H. Clark, who is suing her for $50,000 breach of promise, resurrected in court here today the famous kidnapping of Almee McPherson, Mrs. Kennedy's celebrated daughter.

Clark, who wooed Mrs. Kennedy and then when he thought he had won her hand, learned according to his testimony that she only "was playing" with him, testified that she had advised him to be like Kenneth Ormiston— "He wouldn't breathe a word against Almee."

Kenneth Ormiston was the radio operator whose name was linked with that of the flaming haired, evangelist daughter of Mrs. McPherson after her disappearance and subsequent sensational reappearance on the Arizona desert.

Ormiston, Model

"Mrs. Kennedy held up Ormiston as a model and said I should be like him," Clark told the court.

Clark apparently was calm enough today when he resumed (Continued on Page 8)

RED CROSS IN ROLL CALL PLANS

An organization, under the leadership of George Rader, was perfected by the Richmond chapter of Red Cross last night for the purpose of handling the annual roll call of the Richmond chapter, to be held from Nov. 11 to Nov. 28.

In anticipation of the roll call work, which is to be undertaken by the local chapter, a "large number" of representative citizens were present last night and much interest was shown in the coming campaign.

The work done by the local chapter has increased so fast while the field for work has continued to enlarge that it was the earnest desire of the members present to raise a larger fund this year.

Work Outlined

Rader outlined the work necessary for the various committees to undertake. New ideas and plans were proposed to increase the (Continued on Page 5)

$5443 Reported By Y Campaign Workers

With $5443 reported last night as the total collected so far in the "Fly High for the Y" campaign—about 20 workers are trying today to bring the total still nearer the $8,500 goal.

Though the campaign officially closed Monday, the workers will continue until the remaining prospective givers have been visited. Last night's report was the first received since Monday, and was $816 higher than the earlier report, which was $3627.

Cyde E. Parker, "flight commander" for the campaign expressed his belief last night that the contributions would continue to come in despite the fact that the campaign had officially closed since about 150 former contributors had not yet been visited this year.

Parker and Earle Scofield, department superintendent at the Standard Oil company, have collected more money than any other individual workers in the campaign. Each has collected exactly $1,067, according to Reynold Carlson general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Both acted on the executive committee for the campaign.

Others on the executive committee who reached high totals in the drive are: Charles Renwick $587; Fred Parr, $355; and Henry Johnston, $300.

Of all the workers on the teams Isaac Lester collected the most money, reaching a total of $418.

Another report on the progress of the campaign will be made at 5:30 p. m. Friday at the Y. M. C. A. building.

The attorney was given until Saturday forenoon to file additional motions. He indicated late today that he is considering asking for a change of venue for his clients.

A delay of two weeks in which to prepare a defense for the bandits was sought. The prosecution ready for action, wanted immediate trials. Judge Hollenbeck then "spilt the difference."

Ford Planning New Model Car, Report

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Automotive circles are convinced that Henry Ford has been definitely opposed to six cylinder principle in motor construction, and if any change is made from the present motor, it is likely to be a light eight cylinder Ford car may supplement the present Ford and Lincoln lines, making the bodies nine inches longer, with a five bearing crankshaft and a possible change in the hood.

The company will be enabled to make a quick change to new models, due to the fact that Ford is buying practically all bodies from outside sources.

What seems more probable is that a light eight cylinder Ford car may supplement the present Ford and Lincoln lines, making the bodies nine inches longer, with a five bearing crankshaft and a possible change in the hood.

The company will be enabled to make a quick change to new models, due to the fact that Ford is buying practically all bodies from outside sources.

Perhaps THAT'S the Reason Why!

WITH his customary wit and wisdom, George Bernard Shaw suggests an explanation. For the return of the long skirt—when, as and if—Says Shaw to the World League for Sex Reform:

"If you want sex appeal raised to the utmost point there is one way to do it—by clothes. 'Probably the object of the general adoption of clothing was sex appeal rather than protection from the weather.' At this point we can hear the loud protests of the professionally pure. To the effect that the short skirt, with its terrible revelations of ankle, shin and knee, was the naughtiest of sex appealers. But ask any sensible person, especially any YOUNG person, And you'll 'hear different'! In the first place, the short skirt's revelations frequently

And certainly there's no sex appeal in undress or in plain legs. In the second place, by the time legs of all sorts were no longer a mystery but a HABIT.

The skirt was pretty well out of them—At least for men young enough to have grown up in a skirted world. It was the children who stole from the cat when a feminine knee, or even a feminine ankle, was a revelation of sex appeal.

Who can't get over their complex? When a modern girl sits opposite them in the subway. A skirt truly reminds us. 'The voluptuous woman of the nineteenth century was a masterpiece of sex appeal.'

"It was amazing how she did it. She was clothed from the soles of her feet to the top of her head. 'She wasn't dressed, she was upholstered.' Every single contour—all four corners—were emphasized.

"Everything about her, except her cheeks and nose, was a guilty secret at which you had to guess. And as the great dramatist goes on to point out: 'We have been getting rid of all that. Women have taken a long stride toward nudity. And consequently sex appeal has vanished to a great extent. . . . 'If the old clothing does come back 'The motive will be to increase the sex appeal.

"They do not want to get rid of it." Honestly, it sounds to us like a most plausible theory. For the return of the long skirt, when, as and if—

The young housekeeper can make no better china investment than a salad bowl of pleasing design and ample proportions. Intelligently used once or twice a day, the bowl more than justifies its purchase.

The making of the salad plays a real role in the daily diet, contributing the fresh, green vegetables with their precursors of vitamins and minerals so necessary to health and presenting a beautiful picture. The brilliant colors of the vegetables and other materials in the salad bowl take the eye as they are tossed in the dressing.

Providing the markets are generously supplied with garden and orchard products, the full salad differs little from that served in the winter, spring and summer. The dinner salad, usually a simple green delight and the luncheon or supper version hearty and nourishing.

For the benefit of the young housekeeper it may be well to repeat that the dinner salad depends upon a heavy green vegetable and a simple French dressing for its goodness. Lettuce, both blanched and green leaves, romaine, escarole, chervil, dandelion, wild salad plants, watercress, white, green and purple cabbage are much prized for their freshness. Served alone or in combination with other greens, they aid in keeping the doctor away. The vegetables are coated with imported from Belgium makes a salad de luxe for state occasions.

When a variation of the green dinner salad is wished, the following list may suggest an interesting bowl:

Sliced radishes and crisp romaine with onion French dressing. Green pepper and purple cabbage shredded and crease with lemon French dressing.

Sweet red pepper rings, scallions and white cabbage with garlic French dressing. Lettuce, cucumber and onion circles with paprika French dressing.

Blood celery, radishes and chervil with olive French dressing. Any salad green, tomatoes and cucumbers or onions with tarragon French dressing.

Quite simple is the recipe for FRENCH DRESSING (4). Two large spoons olive or salad oil. One tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar.

One-fourth teaspoon salt, or less. Sprinkle of sugar. Dash of pepper or paprika. Taste may decrease the amount of oil and increase the lemon or vinegar. Given the foundation recipe, the salad maker may work out her own dressing. The dressing may be varied by adding a small amount of any seasoning: paprika, minced onion or chives, minced herbs, and so on. Or the bowl may be rubbed with a cut garlic clove.

To dress the salad at the table, place the salad bowl filled with its colorful vegetables before the salad maker. At the right lay the salad fork and spoon and a tray with the oil, lemon or vinegar, seasonings. Measure the oil into the salad and toss with fork and spoon until the vegetables are coated with oil. Then add salt, pepper or any other seasoning desired and the lemon juice or vinegar. Toss until the dressing has been absorbed and serve at once.

The Importance of a Will

By Dorothy Frooks

(Lawyer and Author of Love's Law)

MONEY seemed to be the cause for a separation after long years of friendship. In court the contested case revealed the facts. It appeared that two women were bosom friends since their early teens. Each married and went her own way and they appeared in time, except for an occasional visit. One day, however, sorrow came into the life of one of the women when death took her husband. She became very ill, and called for her old friend, the other woman. The woman was right on hand, and promised the dying mother that she would look after her part-born baby and bring him up as though he were her very own. The child was taken into the other woman's home, raised and cared for together with other children in this foster mother's home, but never knowing that he was not with his natural mother.

Under the law in such cases, although the child has lived with the family since birth, the child has no rights legally in relation to the family possessions.

As he grew he worked and turned over his money to his foster mother. She had a bank account, and deposited his money in her own name. Although the foster mother loved this child, now grown to manhood, as well as her own children, the law took its course because of thoughtlessness on her part.

The woman died. She did not leave a will. All the young man's savings were in the foster mother's bank account, in her name. In the division of her estate he was excluded as a beneficiary. The other children contended that the money was given for his upkeep, and it was his contention that the foster mother intended to give him his money when he reached a certain age.

Any one knowing these facts would readily realize that if the mother had made a will her intentions would have been made known to the world. The sudden realization of his strange relationship and strange family connections would not have been so severe if he had been included as a member of the family all these years.

A will is absolutely important. One may want to remember a friend who has been kind or in need. Sometimes friends have had more good influence in a person's life than relatives. With a will all the intentions in the world would do no good for the person who would have been remembered by will.

The Farmer's Advice

THERE are two kinds of book readers—those who LOVE books and those who read them only to forget.

I have learned a great deal lately about lending books. I no longer volunteer to let people have the volumes which I prize as my own. In my younger days I was always eager to lend the books I had, and now I feel that my zeal has been very, very expensive.

If a person asks for the loan of a book that is one thing. To offer to lend them with the recommendation that they may like the book is another.

Books are tools to a great many people. If you love books—guard them.

The World's Window

By Pierre Van Paassen

Religious Revolution

European reviewers who occupy themselves with questions relating to Far Eastern culture and life are making frequent mention of late of the widespread interest in religious affairs in Japan. At a meeting of all parts of the Oriental Empire the question of ancestor worship came up for discussion. The fact that such a sacrament tradition could be the subject of a discussion is in itself significant. Opinions expressed on ancestor worship, however, were even more important. Christian Principals declared that the state requirement that all schools devote some time to the cult of ancestors was a violation of the principle of freedom of conscience and worship.

A law of the possession of which Japan prides itself, Shintoists and Buddhists among the pedagogues concurred in this estimation, something that seems a fine tribute to Buddhist tolerance and openmindedness. It was agreed that the respect for ancestors should henceforth be inculcated more from a civil standpoint instead of continuing it as a religious cult, a worship. If the school teachers have their way it means nothing less than a spiritual revolution in Japan.

Peace Volunteers Sixteen parties of German and Austrian young men and women belonging to an organization known as "The Volunteers of Peace" simultaneously crossed the French borders at different points recently and continued their march to Paris. On Sept. 1 they reached the French capital, where they participated in a gigantic demonstration for peace held at the Trocadero Palace. On the way, in the villages, they held meetings each night. They sang their hymns and made speeches. A French sister organization with branches all over the country took care of the local welcomes and ceremonies. Here and there, of course, the German marchers were the object of ridicule and even of ugly demonstrations. All this is natural. Simple country folks who have been taught from their youth to hate everything Teutonic as barbarous, bloodthirsty, domineering and bent on loot, cannot at once forget the lessons received at school, from the newspapers and popular leaders. The Nationalists in France wanted the Trocadero demonstration banned. "We do not doubt," they said, "that these young German men and women are sincere lovers of peace, but this is not the country to come to. They ought to try and convince their own countrymen to whom we owe the destruction of our departments and the endless rows of white crosses in the military cemeteries."

Montmartre On ze Blink Montmartre, they say, has almost killed the goose which used to lay the golden eggs. The goose in this case is the foreign visitor who made a point of visiting Montmartre's cabarets and restaurants whenever he came to Paris. He no longer does so unless he has money to burn, and during the past few months several night resorts have closed down owing to a lack of clients. Visitors freely paid 100 to 150 francs for a bottle of champagne, but when by swift stages the prices mounted to 200 and 300 francs they sought their pleasures elsewhere. They might have been content to pay fancy prices in great palaces of pleasure, but recently some of the most expensive places in Montmartre have been little dens no bigger than the average grocer's or butcher's shop in which a little jazz music and fancy lighting schemes made an enormous difference to the bill. So there has been a steady drift of night life in the direction of Montparnasse, where prices have not yet been "skied" though they already show a tendency in that direction.

Production Falls Slightly According to the figures of the leading German publishing houses, literary production in the Reich shows a slight falling off in 1928 as compared with the previous year. In 1927 there were 2,022 new books and new editions published. The number in 1928 was 2,794. Of these new works belles-lettres, as usual, took the lead with 4,491, or 483 following with 2,281. Books on religion, theology and mythology were 2,988 in number, and those on economics, politics and modern languages numbered nearly 2,000, while of the classics only 134 were published. Notwithstanding efforts made to restrict the translation of books, these have not retrograded. On the contrary, they have increased 16.6 per cent. during the last year.

FINAL EXAMS FOR BRIDGE EXPERTS IN New York this week seventy of America's most expert bridge teachers are taking a post-graduate course from Wilbur C. Whitehead. It would be worth the price of tuition to us to hear Mr. Whitehead bawl them out.

One of the big facts brought out at the fall term is that there are 39,000,000 possible combinations in four bridge hands. We only thought there were two combinations—the awful hands we hold and the perfect no-trumpers our opponents play out.

But with 39,000,000 combinations on the market, no wonder business is good for the auction professors. It takes a bridge expert fifteen minutes to perform an autopsy on a single bridge hand.

At the finish of this mastodontic conclave of super-bridge brains Mr. Whitehead gives an examination to his smart pupils. And we would love to help him throw together that because lady bridge sharks have showed us so many mistakes we'd like to do a somersault and show them up ourself.

If Mr. Whitehead hasn't got his examination completed, would he mind slipping these questions in?

FINAL EXAM FOR BRIDGE EXPERTS 1. On which side of a player should the gin glass be placed?

2. If Mrs. Gann, Alice Longworth, Mrs. William Howard Taft and Lady Esmé Howard showed up for a bridge game, would you be more likely to be North, South, East and West? What would you do if Mrs. Gann refused to cut the cards with Alice for choice of seat?

3. When are the one-eyed jacks ever played wild?

4. Who is the greatest character in history—Napoleon Bonaparte, William Shakespeare, George Washington, King Solomon or Milton G. Work?

5. If you were alone on an island in the Southern Pacific, how would you move a two-ton boulder, 100 yards horizontally and 12 yards vertically?

6. If a bridge expert knows where all the cards are before the first hand is played, what's the objection to having them made of bangles or some other transparent substance?

7. Who first thought up the idea of doubling—the moving picture stars or the bridge players?

8. What is the penalty for an incomplete pass?

Women Are Free! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Legally, politically and socially woman has been emancipated from those chains which bound her. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has exploded the ridiculous theory that forced the stigma of inferiority upon a sex.

"toasting did it"

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful, corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday night, over a coast-to-coast network of the N. B. C.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300° Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

NEW CAGE TEAM FORMED FOR LEAGUE

Another fast aggregation of basketball stars have thrown their hats in the ring of fame, seeking the "B" division title of the Richmond City Basketball League.

The team is unnamed as yet, but it is rumored that the La Moine Drug company, which is one of the league's old standbys, will be the backer of the team. Charles Cecil has been secured to coach and manage the team, and at the initial practice held last Monday night, he showed the boys that he "knew his stuff." Cecil has displayed his coaching abilities in local athletic circles for the past few years, so his ability is well known.

At the meeting held at the home of the team last Monday, Henry "Dusty" Rhodes, was elected as treasurer of the team and Jack Murdock, a newcomer to Richmond, the publicity manager. A novel idea has been introduced by which training rules are kept. Each player who is caught smoking, is fined a nickel every time. Said money being sold into the treasury of the team. This is one of Charles Cecil's ideas for enforcing rigid training rules. A squad of 16 players reported for practice last Monday. Practice games may be scheduled with the team by getting in touch with the manager, Charles Cecil.

City Basketball Meet Postponed

The meeting of the city basketball league managers and players, scheduled for last night was postponed. W. L. Seawright, league manager, announced that no meeting will be called until all the entries for the season are registered, unless important matters arise meanwhile. All entries must be in by Oct. 24.

Anyone who desires to play in the league should see Seawright, and arrangements will be made to provide a position on one of the various teams in the league.

CARDINALS TO FACE HARD CONTESTS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 2.—Three scouts reported here yesterday to "Pop" Warner after week-end jaunts to Berkeley, Los Angeles, and Eugene where they saw three of Stanford's leading Conference opponents in action last Saturday. Don Robesky, star guard of the 1928 Cardinal eleven and now an assistant coach under Warner, watched the Golden Bears trim Santa Clara 27-6. Chuck Winterburn, varsity backfield coach was present when the University of Oregon swamped Pacific 58-0. Weld Line, head coach at State Normal, Hayes Kansas who is here on leave observing "Pop's" coaching methods while the Trojans ran through U. C. L. A. for a 76-0 victory.

Of greatest immediate interest to the Stanford coach was Winterburn's glowing account of the University of Oregon team, which the Redshirts tackle here Saturday afternoon. According to Chuck, all of the great things which have been predicted for the Webfeet seem to be fairly fair way to come true. Practically a complete veteran team is at the command of Coach McEwan. Winterburn was particularly impressed by the Oregon tackles and center and "Flying Dutchman" Kitzmiller, the great triple threat back. He declared that the Cardinals will have to play their best game of the season to date to win next Saturday.

Line's description of the Trojans, whom the Redshirts meet here Oct. 26, was far from encouraging to "Pop" Warner. Howard Jones' team was not really extended in spite of the fact that it ran up 76 points and held U. C. L. A. scoreless. Line said that Southern California has a powerful and diversified offense even with a great deal held in reserve, and a defense which will challenge the best designed attack. The Trojan line is beefy, fast, and smart, and the backfield was powerful. Ross Saunders and Marshall Bufford are great ground gainers in the over-the-shoulder position and the other backs are now taking their turns at carrying the ball.

Robesky reported that California had at least as good a defensive team as last year and a foundation for a greater offense than the Golden Bears have shown in several years. The line and backfield showed a nifty passing game and a running attack which will be hard to stop. All in all, the three reports left "Pop" Warner in a state of mind and prompted him to send his boys through a stiff workout yesterday.

Warner Cuts Card Varsity To 49 Players

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 2.—Forty-nine men will comprise the 1929 Cardinal varsity football squad, according to an announcement by Coach "Pop" Warner here today. Warner's first and only cut of the season dropped some 40 gridiron aspirants by the wayside.

There were no great surprises in the squad which "Pop" announced when practice started this afternoon. The 49 men make up four full teams with five extra men. Following is the squad summary by positions: Nine ends, eight tackles, ten guards, five centers, nine halfbacks, four quarterbacks, and four fullbacks.

Fair Weather Promised State Football Fans

Cal contest, Oct. 5 and 12 respectively should draw big crowds, as fair weather will bring the fan out to the games.

SEALS OUT OF COAST FLAG RACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2, (U.P.)—Only three teams of the Pacific Coast league—Hollywood, the Missions and Los Angeles—tonight were in a position to win the second half of the league season when it ends Sunday.

In games played today the Seals were definitely eliminated from the race and Portland could only tie by winning all games while Hollywood and the Missions were losing all the remaining five contests. Hollywood and the Missions won today so the Seals maintained a one game lead over the Missions. Los Angeles, in third place, also won and stayed three games behind the leader.

Hollywood avenged the Beavers' one hit game on Tuesday by trouncing Portland 15 to 9. The Missions started with six runs in the first inning and beat Seattle 7 to 4. Los Angeles overwhelmed Oakland, 10 to 2.

Six runs by the Seals in the eleventh inning gave them a 9 to 3 victory over Sacramento, and they were six games behind Hollywood.

FIELDS GIVEN NOD OVER DUNDEE

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—UP—Jack Dempsey gave his opening show as an independent boxing promoter in Chicago tonight and the throng of notables present at the ringside was a tribute to the never failing popularity of the former champion.

Inside the ropes, the crowd was treated to the spectacle of as game a losing battle as the one Jack fought himself on the misty shore of Lake Michigan here two years ago.

Little Vince Dundee of Baltimore suffering terrific early feasting at the hands of the welter champion, Jackie Fields, including a knockdown for the count of nine in the sixth, came back to fight the title bout of his feet in the closing sessions of a wildly exciting ten round bout.

Fields won the decision. What started out to be a tame, one sided affair, ended on a note of vociferous enthusiasm, the crowd booing the champion and cheering lustily for the Baltimore boy.

B GRIDDERS PLAY TODAY

The Richmond Union high school B football team will struggle with the Berkeley high B team tonight on the Berkeley field.

The Richmond lightweights have been undergoing strenuous training under Phil Hempler, assistant coach at the local high school, and a fast team has been produced. Much is expected of the younger boys in tonight's contest.

Local Boys To Be Ushers At Saint-U. C. Game

The football squad of the Richmond Union high school will usher at the game between California and St. Mary's in the Berkeley stadium Saturday.

Thirty-two Richmond boys are expected to go to the college city. They are: Ogden Arnold, Louis Acamazo, Louis Ball, Fred Barton, Emeric Baxter, George Betts, William Brook, Warren Brown, Gene Degnan, Carl Drexel, Lawrence Dunleavy, Bill Dunleavy, Walt Freeman, Elden Hall, Bernard Hoefler, John Abbey, Charles Jackson, Russell Lane, Willie Lark, Edward Masek, Bob Miller, Jack Peters, Joan Rosano, Leslie Scarcella, Jack Stoddard, Andrew Wellings, Howard Ackerman, Roy Carson, Clarence Hall, and Jack McLean.

Swimming Class To Be Started

A swimming class for men and women over 17 years of age will be started by the Berkeley Red Cross chapter at the Richmond Municipal natatorium Friday night at 7:30 o'clock under the direction of George Huchling.

Huchling is swimming instructor at the University of California and Berkeley Evening high school.

Enrollment is made at Berkeley Red Cross headquarters 2178 Alston Way and a nominal fee is charged. The telephone number of the organization is Berkeley 6727.

WEBFEET WILL MEET CARDS SATURDAY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 2.—"Pop" Warner's Stanford Cardinals get their baptism of fire, as far as the 1929 Pacific Coast conference race is concerned, against the formidable University of Oregon eleven in the Stanford Stadium Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Coach McEwan has practically a veteran team and one which is acknowledged as the leader in the Pacific northwest. The Oregonians have pointed for the Redshirts since practice opened for, due to a comparatively light schedule, they will be conceded a splendid chance to win the Conference title if they trim Stanford. The Webfeet do not meet Southern California or California.

Good Chance
The fans in the northwest believe that the Lemon Yellow has a better chance to turn the trick than they have since 1920 and on paper, Captain McEwan has an even, which ranks right up with the Cards. Oregon won her opening game against Pacific University at Eugene last Saturday by the overwhelming score of 58-0 and looked exceedingly powerful in so doing.

The northerners have a great line, the outstanding men being Stadelman, a 6 foot 4 center, Colbert and Christensen a pair of tackles whose weights combined total nearly a quarter of a ton, and Little, a young guard, McEwan has a wealth of backfield material headed by Johnny Kitzmiller, dubbed the "Flying Dutchman." And they say that Kitzmiller does anything but fly.

He is a sensational triple threat, a power on defense, and a demon at running interference. It is probable that Warner will use the same team which started against West Coast Army and the Olympic Club, with one exception, Phil Neill will be left end in place of Johnny Preston who was hurt last Saturday. Bill Simpkins' knee is mending slowly and the star fullback will probably be unable to get into the fray. The power house backfield of Fishbacker at quarter, Fentrop and Rothert at halves, and Smalling or Hillman at full will put the Oregon forward wall to a severe test.

Strength Regained

Woodland, Cal., Mar. 28, 1928.

Several months ago I strained my back. It was very painful and got worse every day. My general health was affected and I became so weak that I could scarcely walk.

I was recommended to take the Fong Wan herbs. After the first three weeks of the treatment I had gained seven pounds in weight. My health is now entirely restored, my back is well and I am strong again.

I take pleasure in endorsing the wonderful herbs of Fong Wan.

12 STEAMER IN LOCAL HARBOR

With a dozen oceangoing liners in port yesterday, Richmond harbor reached its highest peak of shipping activity. Eight Standard Oil tankers and several freighters of international transport lines comprise the fleet.

None of these ships are docked at the Parr-Richmond terminal, outer harbor wharves, nor at the new $500,000 inner harbor docks, which were recently completed for the city and the Parr terminal.

The Moordyk, a large Holland-American steamship line freighter, anchored at Point San Pablo on Tuesday evening, next to the Silver Fir, a British ship which operates between North and South America under the General Steamship line flag.

The Moordyk, a big black and white ship, manned by German and Dutch, will load oil by-products today, and then depart for the Far East.

On the Silver Fir, is cargoed 6,000 barrels of asphalt, bound for South American ports.

The Golden Sun, one of the finest of the Oceanic and Orient boats left Point San Pablo for the Orient, just before the Moordyk docked.

Tankers in port flying the Standard Oil flag include the Standard Service and the H. E. Harper, now pumping out casing head gasoline from southern California; and the District of Columbia, discharging crude oil.

Four other tankers of the Standard Oil fleet are filling from the local refinery. They are the Charles Watson, Vocolla, Richmond and Victoria No. 3.

Probation Officer Has New Secretary

MARTINEZ, Oct. 2.—Succeeding Miss Agnes Ring of Richmond, Miss Josephine Reynolds of this city, has been named secretary to Dr. T. A. Bowyer, county probation officer. Miss Ring is to be married to M. W. Campbell of Richmond, next Monday, and Miss Reynolds will relieve her on Oct. 15.

Bay Barrier Urged Before Kiwanis Club

According to Vincent Wright of Alameda in an address before the Richmond Kiwanis club recently, erection of a salt water barrier between Richmond and Marin county would permit furnishing water to southern California at a cheaper rate than that part of the state will be able to obtain from the Boulder Dam.

Because of lack of the barrier said Wright, who is a former delta man, a million dollars worth of water is going to waste annually. Wright further declared that it would be easier to bore pipe lines through the Tehachapits, than to cut through the granite mountains which lay between Boulder Dam and Los Angeles.

Clifford Johnson was chairman of the meeting, at which J. J. Barry was awarded the attendance prize. Entertainment was furnished by M. Eastman and E. Moorehead.

Boy Takes Lone Trip From East To Richmond Kin

A trip to Richmond from Tulsa, Okla., is nothing, nothing at all, to hear 12 year old Johnny Higgins tell of it. Johnny stepped off the train here Monday after a journey across half the continent alone.

Although enthused about sights along the trail, Johnny was very nonchalant about making the long trip alone. He is here to visit his aunt, Mrs. Carl W. Longacre, 3219 Garvin avenue, who met him at the train Monday. He is the son of Mrs. T. F. Spencer of Tulsa, Okla., who put him on the train a week ago for his trip to the west.

The Travelers' Aid society looked out for him along the way, assisted by members of the train crew.

Johnny, who had his first view of the ocean from Richmond, immediately wanted to know where the Golden Gate was.

Police Expert In Talk Before R. U. H. S. Pupils

Perry C. Caldwell, head of the Oakland Identification Bureau and past president of the International Identification association, addressed Richmond Union high school pupils yesterday.

Caldwell traced the history of criminal identification from 2000 B. C. to the present day. He described the various methods employed in the identification of criminals by the modern police force.

He pointed out that the "rogues gallery" and the Bertillon system of measurements were not as effective and dependable as the finger print system. Caldwell has had 20 years experience with the finger print system, and told of many interesting experiences of his long career.

C. Bergeman Funeral Today

Funeral services for Charles Bergeman, Pullman resident, who committed suicide several days ago were conducted from the Wilson and Kratzer chapel yesterday morning. Interment was in Sunset View cemetery.

An inquest into the death has not been set.

Birth Registration Records Shattered

All birth records for Richmond were shattered yesterday when nine new citizens announced their arrival at the Richmond Health department. According to Clara Mallanni, clerk of the Health department, the nine births recorded yesterday are believed to have shattered all previous records for one day.

The births recorded are: LeRoy Oliver Ledford, born on Sept. 24, to the wife of H. M. Ledford, 428 Second street.

Ruby Dolores Gundry, born on Sept. 26, to the wife of Raymond Gundry, Richmond.

Donald Eugene Church, born on Sept. 26, to the wife of M. E. Church, 356 South Thirty-seventh street.

Betty Jean Edwards, born Sept. 28, to the wife of D. E. Edwards, 598 Bazaroboth street of Needles, Calif.

Radio KFWM Given Permit To Move Here

Formal permission by the Federal Radio Commission for the removal of radio station KFWM from Oakland to Richmond was granted yesterday, it was announced through the local Chamber of Commerce.

The action means, according to P. M. Sanford president that the station will at once transfer its broadcasting equipment to this city and become Richmond's official station, broadcasting the name of the city and its official slogan.

C. R. Welch, president of the Oakland Education society, operator of the station, conferred yesterday with E. B. Bull and Fred D. Parr on final details closing up the deal whereby the station takes over two acres in East Shore park.

Welch said a survey of the ground will be started today, and that his will be followed by ground breaking. He will erect a broadcast building of hollow tile to house the machinery and two towers 150 feet high and 300 feet apart from which Richmond's message will be sent to the outside world.

The Radio commission also granted an increase in the station's power from 500 to 1,000 watts during the daylight hours.

Radio KFWM will probably set up a local studio in the Hotel Carquinez from which local programs will be broadcast, and will have another studio in Oakland, it was said.

LOVE ROWS OF MA KENNEDY IN COURT

his story of having fallen violently in love with Mrs. Kennedy who at one time aided her daughter in conducting the affairs of Angelus Temple in Los Angeles.

For months he said he had known her as "Mrs. Clark," that they had become acquainted principally because their names were the same and that on last Feb. 18 he heard for the first time that Mrs. Clark really was Mrs. Kennedy.

Admits Identity
"I heard from her own lips then for the first time, 'yes, I am Ma Kennedy,'" he said.

"She called me up and asked me to meet her at the Olympic hotel. She wanted me to take a taxi to the edge of the city and talk things over."

"Did you go?" asked his counsel.

"No, indeed, I was afraid of my life when I knew who she was. We went to a restaurant. I told her that no self-respecting man or woman could stand in a pulpit and preach purely after what we had done."

"Spelled Boy"
"She told me I was talking like a spelled boy and threatened me and said she was going to have me arrested. I told her I had a revolver in my room and that I was going to end it all. She said 'that's a nice way to talk to a lady.'"

"She told me 'There's Ormiston, he wouldn't breathe a word against Alimee.'"

During their wordy battle at the restaurant said Clark, they almost made love.

Kiss, Quarrel
"In fact," he said, "we stood up, leaned across the table and kissed, but we soon fell to quarreling again."

Silently Mrs. Kennedy wept while her attorney read from a manuscript. Clark admitted having written at no time their friendship ended. In it he pledged himself to "defend her reputation."

Her weeping continued unabated when Clark was questioned about the first time he ever went to a hotel room with Mrs. Kennedy.

"Did you resist?" he was asked.

"My resistance was broken down," he replied.

"Did you call for help or make an outcry?"

"No sir."

ness man; Mrs. Lottier C. Stenner, widow; Mrs. Maud Talbert, housewife; Mrs. Lottie Clark, housewife and T. M. Reed, retired oil worker.

In examining jurors today Defense Attorney Joe Ford asked if they would keep in mind any motive that the miners may have had in telling her story of the alleged attack.

Frankup Charge Looms
This was interpreted to mean that the defense would renew Pantages' earlier charges that the incident which ended when Miss Pringle ran screaming from his secluded consultation room was a "frameup."

The accused showman, who rose from a humble position during the Alaskan cold rush to that of one of the west's foremost theater and sporting figures, said today that he would testify in his own behalf.

"I am going to tell my story of the things that occurred on the day she says I attacked her," Pantages told newspaper reporters.

"I hope to clear myself of the charges. But that is all I have to say now."

Miss Pringle was in the district attorney's office today, waiting the conclusion of the jury that she might see the stand and tell her story. She accused Pantages of beating her to become his sweetheart, tearing her clothing, hitting her and finally the asserted attack.

Duffy Downed By Thompson

OAKLAND, Oct. 2 (U.P.)—Cousinously the veteran Jimmy Duffy, Oakland, welter, took punishment from Young Jack Thompson here tonight only to lose a technical knockout one minute before the end of the tenth round.

Thompson had sent his foe down three times in earlier rounds, and sent him to the canvas twice in the tenth. Duffy was hanging on the ropes when the end came.

In tightening wheel bearings, it is well to back off a quarter to half turn after reaching the take-up limit. If this is not done, the resultant binding may seriously damage the bearings.

Protect Your Furniture
A $125 fire-killed Your Home of Moths May Save You Hundreds of Dollars.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS
The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

among the night shift workers during the evening. At 1 a. m. things came to a crisis when about 70 of the 250 men and women employed on the night shift walked out.

The strike had been called to force reinstatement of union members alleged to have been discharged by officials of the Marlon Manufacturing company.

Warrants Threatened
William Ross, union organizer, said he planned to obtain warrants for the sheriff's five deputies and two mill officials. He charged the sheriff's party fired first and that the officials resorted to trouble by inflammatory statements.

No arrests had been made at nightfall.

TROOPS ARRIVE IN STRIFE TORN TOWN
MARION N. C. Oct. 2.—UP—Troops ordered here by Gov. C. Max Gardner to cope with strike disorders arrived at 8:15 tonight.

Carrying rifles and full field equipment, they marched with banners flying up the main street of Marion to their headquarters.

There were about 100 men in the first contingent. The townspeople paid little attention.

THE men who settled California depended on their own courage and alertness in the struggle for survival. While government was chaotic, the pioneers found protection only in their own resources.

Yet these same men placed a high value on orderly government. They framed our first Constitution at Monterey. They fought for our admission into the Union. They laid the foundations of our strong banking system.

Today, protection is a specialized function of modern banking—a function developed to the highest degree by the Bank of America.

The protection this bank renders its customers is based on the sound banking laws of California—on unusually rigid self-imposed restrictions—on resources of more than 400 millions.
